Struktol Company of America, LLC is also a distributor of Schill+Seilacher's broad range of products for the leather industry in the USA and Canada.

Schill+Seilacher group (<https://www.schillseilachergroup.de/>) is considered the innovation leader in the field of process additives and was founded in 1877. Today, about 1,000 employees worldwide stand behind the success of the Schill+Seilacher group. The group operates several production sites throughout Germany and the USA, and has presence on six continents. Its innovative specialty additives and products (mostly marketed under the brand name STRUKTOL®) are used, for example, in the rubber industry as well as in the plastics/PVC/WPC, leather, textiles and cosmetics industries. Traditional values and investments, guaranteed through a high degree of research and development activities, secure our dynamic growth.

Ingeborg Gross and her family were the sole owners of the Schill+Seilacher "STRUKTOL" Group until her death in June 2019. For many years Ms. Gross was the icon at the helm of the company. Through her drive and desire to lead change, she shaped Schill+Seilacher/Struktol into the international market leader it is today. Ms. Gross is fondly remembered for her love and dedication to Schill+Seilacher/Struktol as a company, brand and family. The Schill+Seilacher "STRUKTOL" Group will now be managed by a foundation that will continue to operate the company as an independent medium-sized enterprise in the spirit of Ingeborg Gross.
